

Almenkerk Wine Estate

Almenkerk Wine Estate, nestled in the picturesque Elgin Valley, is enveloped by the Kogelberg Biosphere Reserve, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. With its cellar and tasting room harmoniously nestled against the mountainside, guests are treated to breathtaking views.

At the heart of the Van Almenkerk family's philosophy is a commitment to crafting the finest wines with sustainability at the forefront. Beyond the vineyards, the estate serves as a nursery for indigenous plants, and they have dedicated 15 hectares of land to the meticulous restoration of pristine Elgin Fynbos and Renosterveld Mosaic vegetation, exemplifying their dedication to preserving the region's natural beauty.
