

Benguela Cove

Benguela Cove, gracing the Atlantic coastline and the enchanting Bot River Lagoon, stands as a beacon of leisure and sustainability. Beyond its remarkable wines, this lagoon Wine Estate provides a diverse array of activities for all to enjoy.

Environmental stewardship is at the core of the estate's ethos, as it practices eco-friendly farming techniques and dutifully conserves over 208 hectares of land. In doing so, they serve as protectors of numerous threatened species, including the majestic blue crane and the invaluable Cape honeybee. This commitment to both ecological preservation and guest engagement underscores Benguela Cove's dedication to fostering a harmonious relationship between nature and visitors.
