Please respect road closure signs

Keep yourself and your loved ones safe on the road. We are well aware that there are motorists who want to travel to see the snow in person, and we urge all road users to please obey every road sign, this include road closure signs and especially those for snow closure – it is there for a very good reason, your safety.

When a road is closed, it is closed to all road users and to all vehicle types. Roads are only closed for safety reasons. Emergency personnel must be free to respond to unavoidable emergencies. The last thing anyone wants is for a fun trip to turn into tragedy.

Because snow is uncommon in South Africa, especially in urban areas, drivers may not be accustomed to driving in snow and on icy or hail-covered roads. Snow, ice and hail are very slippery. Regardless of what kind of vehicle you drive, your tyres are probably unsuitable for driving on a road with snow, ice or hail on it. If you come across snow, ice or hail on any road, slow down gradually, increase your following distance, do not make sudden direction changes, and do not brake or accelerate harshly or suddenly.
