* These figures were taken from a table in an article published on Politicsweb (<http://politicsweb.co.za/politicsweb/view/politicsweb/en/page71619?oid=503785&sn=Detail&pid=71619>) – “Matric 2013: Why the Free State and North West’s success is illusory”.

Please note the figures for 2011 are for public ordinary schools only (not independent schools). The government matric enrolment and pass figures include some learners from independent schools who wrote the NSC rather than the IEB examinations. The percentages given are thus maximums.
